Exception EMDs, or partial EMDs (Co Lead) will not fully count toward direct EMD leg requirements. Must be in good standing with the company.

GFI Recognition System

As EMD's we want to be hero makers. We want to make people feel special and celebrated for their milestones and hard work. Below you will find a recognition system that is designed to keep people motivated as they continue to progress forward in the company. Often times, your agents will do more for recognition than they will for income. This is a great strategy to keep people motivated, in the hunt, and striving for more.

As an EMD, it is your responsibility to make sure that your agents are recognized.

Be sure to track their milestones, so no one ever feels left out or forgotten.

EMD Standards of Excellence

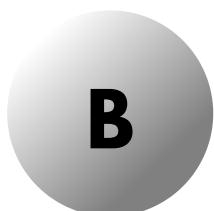

The EMD Base Shop standards below are based off a calendar quarter and are there to help us identify those EMD Base Shops that need help versus those that know what they are doing.

All Incentive trips, bonuses, and different rewards provided by GFI will be tied to these EMD Standards of Excellence.

Responsibilities of An EMD

As an EMD it is important to understand that it is more than just having a high personal contract. People are counting on you and you are a representation of the entire company. All EMDs are expected to be a great example both in business and outside of business. Because we offer real contractual ownership, where much is given, much is required.

Below you will find responsibilities of an EMD.

- 1. Hold weekly Base Shop meetings.
- 2. Purchase recognition and gear for your team.
- 3. Have staff and run a real business.
- 4. Have a team chat.
- 5. Push the Frontline Leaders System.
- 6. Mobilize to all company & hierarchy events.
- 7. Have monthly goals for your team.
- 8. Stay close to the fire, and in alignment with your leadership and the company.
- 9. Recognize your people using GFI's recognition system.
- 10. Attend all hierarchy & company EMD meetings.
- 11. Keep your personal and Base Shop persistency over 95%.
- 12. Be a person of integrity and character, both in business and outside of it.
- 13. Be an example of why people should want to be an EMD.
- 14. Be full time (GFI should be all that you do).
- 15. Win Big!

Weekly Base Shop Calls

1

Base Shop Training

At least once a week you should be holding a Base Shop training as an EMD. On that training, you should be intentionally improving and driving whatever the deficiency is in your Base Shop (or the most strategic thing based off where you are in the month). Think Chess, not Checkers. Whatever you train on people will be thinking about for the next couple of days.

On this call, make sure to:

1. Cover Announcements
2. Recognition & Hero Making (The Last 7 Days of Results & MTD Recruits, Points, Cashflow)
3. You can either do 1 general training where you are all together or you can do breakout rooms and train people based off where they are. For instance, you might do a breakout room for everyone who is new and have them go through a crusade class while everyone else goes to a higher level general training.
4. Always sell the dream with some type of compensation example tied to your training.
5. Always end with a challenge or Base Shop focus.

Note: There is nothing wrong with holding more than one Base Shop training per week. If you do, make them targeted trainings where on one training, you drive recruiting, building, systems, etc. and then on the other training, you drive products, CloZing, crusade, and production.

2

CFT Meeting

Once a week you should be meeting with all of your Base Shop Certified Field Trainers.

In this meeting you want to:

1. Unite the leadership team.
2. Take accountability of what everyone has done over the last 7 days and where they are for the month.
3. Talk about and address any holes or issues the Base Shop is encountering.
4. Inspire action and challenge them to XYZ.

3

Frontline Meeting

Your Base Shop Frontline is your next wave of direct EMDs that you will be promoting. This is where you get to mentor and coach them in a more private and intimate setting since there are fewer people on the call. The goal of this call is to mentor and coach them on everything they need to become an EMD.

Frontline Requirements:

15,000 personal points and 2 directs in a calendar quarter, or 20,000+ personal points

The Staff You Need

Your Base Shop Should Be A Business

Licensing Specialist

As an EMD, it is very important that you have a licensing coordinator who is solely focused on helping your agents in the Base Shop get licensed & appointed. A licensing coordinator helps each agent get into their licensing course, schedule their test date, answers any and all questions throughout the licensing process, and then holds their hand through the post passing of the exam, all the way up until they are fully appointed and able to earn income.

IMPORTANT: Even though it is the licensing coordinators job to assist each agent with getting licensed, it is the trainers and EMDs job to motivate them through the process and hold them accountable.

CFT Coordinator

A CFT Coordinator is in charge of running the Daily CFT-In-Progress training program, which is designed to help those who have completed their 10 Field Training Appointments become fully competent and confident to be able to sit down with clients all on their own. CFT-In-Progress role plays and teaches new agents our client process along with how to run illustrations, use GFI Rocket, & Annuity Genius. Having a CFT Coordinator will buy back hours and hours of not only your current CFT's time, but also your own because the CFT coordinator must sign them off, before coming to you for the final sign off.

Marketing & Promotions

The person in charge of Marketing & Promotions will make all event flyers, and all recognition flyers such as comma checks, new rings, new watches, new promotions, and all other recognition on the team or Base Shop. They also make all recognition presentations for your team calls every week.

Normally, Marketing & Promotions is in charge helping people submit their promotion paperwork for promotions, like Field Associate and Marketing Director, with the EMD Approval.

Commissions & Operations

The person in charge of Commissions & Operations is there to assist the Base Shop with policy and client management, along with any policy and commission issues they may encounter. They communicate with GFI along with the product carriers in order to correct and or fix any issues that may pop up and are also there to help track, manage, and push through all pending business in the Base Shop Policy Pipeline.

We would also recommend for the person in this role to meet with every new Certified Field Trainer that gets signed off in order to walk them through back office procedures and policy pipelines.

We understand that the current size of your Base Shop may not produce enough volume to need a full time employee in each specific role. So in the meantime, we would recommend to have one person doing multiple operational tasks, having a spouse take on a specific role, and or splitting staff costs with another EMD.

We want to encourage you to think like a business owner, invest back into your business and turn your base shop into a factory. Those that do this prior to feeling "ready" are the ones that scale the fastest.

Business Ratios

Net Point Ratio (Persistency)

Net Point Ratio is the percentage of points that stay in-force compared to the amount of points submitted.

$$\text{Net Points} \div \text{Gross Points} = \text{NPR \%}$$

Standard: 95% Or Higher

Recruit To Client Ratio

Recruit To Client Ratio is the percentage of new recruits that become clients.

$$7 \text{ Clients} \div 10 \text{ Recruits} = 70\% \text{ RCR}$$

Standard: 70% Or Higher
Goal: 100% RCR

Net Licensing Ratio

Net Licensing Ratio is the percentage of new licenses that make their first $1,000 within their first 90 days in business.

$$8 \text{ Net Licenses} \div 10 \text{ Licenses} = 80\% \text{ NLR}$$

Standard: 80% NLR Or Higher

Recruit To Taproot Ratio

Recruit To Taproot Ratio is the percentage of direct recruits that become 4 agent codes deep in one leg.

$$4 \text{ Four Deep Legs} \div 10 \text{ Directs} = 40\% \text{ RTR}$$

Worst Case: 1 in 4 Directs
Standard: 2 in 4 Directs

Recruit To Net Points Ratio

Recruit To Net Point Ratio is the amount of points you average per recruit.

$$10,000 \text{ Points} \div 2 \text{ Recruits} = 5,000 \text{ RNPR}$$

Worst Case: 4,000 Points Per Recruit
Standard: 5,000 Points Per Recruit

Licensing Ratio

Licensing Ratio is the percentage of new agents that get licensed and appointed.

$$5 \text{ Licenses} \div 10 \text{ Recruits} = 50\% \text{ LR}$$

Worst Case: 35% LR
Standard: 50% LR or Higher

Points Per License Ratio

Points Per License Ratio is the amount of annual points you average per licensed agent in your downline agency.

$$120,000 \text{ Points} \div 4 \text{ Licenses} = 30,000 \text{ PPLR}$$

Worst Case: 20,000 Points Per License
Goal: 30,000 Points Per License or Higher

Closing Ratio

Closing Ratio is the percentage of clients that move forward with you compared to the amount of appointments you go on.

$$7 \text{ Clients} \div 10 \text{ Appointments} = 70\% \text{ CR}$$

Worst Case: 50% CR
Standard: 70% CR or Higher

Keeping Your Persistency High

95% Persistency Is GFI's Minimum Standard

The reason GFI has the best products in the industry on our shelf is because of our track record for having great persistency. The carriers that we do business with have priced their products at a 95% persistency, which means any agent that falls below 95% may cost the carrier(s) money and becomes a liability. Falling below 95% persistency could lead to the carrier(s) terminating the carrier appointment for the agent.

1 0 to 100

With GFI, we do NOT take advances at the submission of a policy. We wait until the policy is fully approved, issued and premiums have been drafted.

2 GFI Rocket & Annuities Genius

By leveraging our technology, your persistency should stay high not only because of the upfront honesty about fees (or cost of insurance), but also because it allows the client to see product comparisons where it's a logical decision to move forward. The creator of GFI Rocket has had 100% persistency for over 20 years, which is why every GFI agent should be using this technology in every client appointment.

3 Don't Over Sell

It's important to pay attention to the client's current savings habits and how much they currently have saved in a savings account. If there is not enough money in their current savings to fund the account annually (not because they have to, but as a rule of thumb) then most likely they will not be able to afford the monthly premium.

4 Truly Educate Your Clients

An educated client will keep their policy because they understand in depth why they got it to begin with. As a GFI agent, you should truly educate your client. This will give the client confidence knowing that what they have purchased from you is suitable for them.

5 Multiple Policies Per Household

If a client only has 1 policy with you, then there is less than a 30% chance that they will stay with you long term. If a client has 2 policies with you, there is about a 60% chance that they will stay with you long term. If a client has 3 or more policies with you, then there is over a 90% chance that they will remain your client for life.

6 Follow Up Fridays

One of the best things you can do every Friday is follow up with all pending and active clientele. Block out an hour every Friday to help with all client retention (this is also a great way to get referrals).

Standard: 1) Call the client every month for the first 3 months of them being a client. 2) Call them once a quarter after that, 3) Do an annual review on the anniversary date. This is a total of 6 phone or zoom interactions within the first 12 months.

7 Mass Text Message APP

There are different phone apps out there that allow you to send mass text messages. We would recommend finding one that you like and then sending a monthly message to all of your clients to drip on them. The more they hear from you, the better. You can categorize each group by the products they have.

8 Thank You Cards & Gifts

It is important to make every client feel appreciated. Make sure to have your staff send hand written thank you cards to every client you help and include a gift. Suggested amounts range from $5 to $100 depending on the size of the account. (No more than $100 per year, per client.)

9 Do The Right Thing

If you do the right thing for a client and properly structure a policy, then no agent in the industry will be able to beat and or talk your client out of what you do for them.

10 Have The Client Explain Back You

Before filling out an application with a client, have them list back to you and explain the 5 reasons they are purchasing the policy. This shows that they truly understand what they are getting and it also solidifies their belief that what they are getting is good for them.

Growing Your Recruiting

Double Digit Recruiting

Every month it is important that your Base Shop does a minimum of 10 recruits, otherwise known as "Double Digit Recruiting". 10 Recruits is where productivity begins, but remember that both 10 recruits and 99 recruits are considered DDR. This means that even though 10 is a good start, you should strive for more.

Because developing leaders takes time, it is a lot easier to run high recruiting volume and find leaders, than it is to develop them from scratch. If you find someone who is already influential, then all you have to do is teach them the skillset because influence takes time to develop and must be caught while skill sets can be taught.

Typically 10 = 2. This means that for every 10 recruits, 2 of them will go on to become a certified field trainer. The person with the most independent and producing field trainers will do not only the most production, but the most consistent production.

10 Recruits Per Month = Momentum Starts

25 Recruits Per Month = Meaningful Gains Start to Happen

100 Recruits Per Month = You Won't Recognize Your Practice

1 5 Directs Three Months In Row

In order to kick start your Base Shop, the best way to do it is to do 5 directs for 3 months in a row and then properly run them through the system.

2 Master The Onboarding 2

The Onboarding 2 is designed to generate a top 100 potential business partner list and is where the future of your Base Shop's recruiting comes from. Based off the 10-6-3-1 "Call to Result" ratio, 100 names and numbers should lead to a minimum of 10 new recruits. So if we master the art of getting a big list in Onboarding 2, our recruiting will always remain high.

3 Only MDs & Above Do Onboarding 2

If Onboarding 2 is where all future business volume comes from then it is important that we take it very seriously and not allow just anyone to do it. Only allow MDs and above to do an Onboarding 2. If your Base Shop is doing less than 25 recruits per month, the EMD should be doing every Onboarding 2 until volume picks up.

4 Dedicate 1 Base Shop Call Per Week To Recruiting & Building

Whatever you talk about or train on is what your team leaves thinking about. Dedicate one call per week to teaching people why and how to recruit. By doing this recruiting will become the dominating thought the next couple of days.

5 Power Hour

Every day run an hour long zoom where you and other full timers get on a zoom call or in person and dedicate 1 hour straight to recruiting outreach.

6 Teach The "How" Not Just The Why

In the recruiting manual you can find over 12 different step by step, word for word strategies to get directs. Make sure that your Base Shop is fully equipped on exactly what to do and how to do it.

7 Recognize It & Leverage The Field Associate Promotion

Always recognize and highlight what you want more of. Every week on your Base Shop call, make sure to recognize everyone who got a direct in the last 7 days along with the month to date direct recruiting numbers. Doing this while also talking about and recognizing the Field Associate promotion (which requires 3 personal directs), will keep people motivated to continue recruiting.

Growing Your Licensing

Double Digit Licensing

Everyone always talks about Double Digit Recruiting, but very few talk about Double Digit Licensing, which is way more important than DDR. You obviously can't license someone without recruiting them, but do not mistake what truly grows your business. The person with the largest licensed and trained field force will always win. Volume always trumps skill, when skill doesn't have volume.

1 Licensing Should Be In Every & All Conversations

Talk about licensing non stop, and make sure that there is never a conversation where licensing doesn't get brought up.

2 Make Sure Your CFTs Are Equipped

It is the licensing coordinators job to help them through licensing process, but it is the EMD and Certified Field Trainer's job to motivate them and hold them accountable.

3 Strong Licensing Support Staff With Incentives

Licensing is not something that just anyone should do. You want someone in the role that is super structured, action oriented, and actually cares about getting people licensed and paid. We would recommend adding some sort of bonus incentive to their pay for every new person they get appointed. If there is a financial incentive your staff is likely to do more.

4 Put It In Your Base Shop Announcements

The more people see it and hear about it, the more they will be thinking about it. We recommend adding licensing to your weekly base shop announcements so you don't forget to talk about it.

5 Recognize It

Always recognize what you want more of. We recommend having flyers made for the group chats and celebrating each person on your base shop call every week. We suggest recognizing not just those who pass their exam, but those who get fully appointed.

6 Licensing Classes

We recommend holding 2 licensing classes per day (Example: 11am & 4pm) Monday - Friday. Then, an additional class at 11am every Saturday that helps each agent get into their study courses, learn how to study. In that class, make sure a test date is scheduled (if the state permits). There is nothing wrong with multiple base shops coming together to run this.

7 Non Licensed Agent Group Chat

Have a Group Chat with your licensing coordinators and every person going through licensing. This allows for agents that are studying to get answers to questions quickly, for agents to create relationships and set up study groups where they can study together, and it also helps with motivating those in licensing through the process.

8 Make Sure People Pass Fast

Create a culture in your team where everyone expects to take and pass the licensing exam in less than 7 days, worst case scenario 10 days. Whatever you talk about as normal will become normal, so make this normal language amongst the trainers, the coordinators, and then obviously for yourself as the leader.

Scale Your Licensing

You can mathematically scale and grow your income by understanding how important licensing is and how it affects your cash flow.

This is why we MUST obsess over licensing in volume and strong licensing ratios (50% Minimum).

1 License = 50,000 Points Per Year

10 Licenses = 500,000 Points Per Year

100 Licenses = 5,000,000 Points Per Year

1,000 Licenses = 50,000,000 Points Per Year

10,000 Licenses = 500,000,000 Points Per Year

Licensing Income Math:

If You Add 10 Licensed Agents To Your Agency This Month, That Means That You Can Expect An Extra 500,000 Points In Your Agency Over The Next 12 Months

At A 35% Average Override Spread, You Can Expect An Additional $175,000 In Override Income Over The Next 12 Months

Every 10 New Licenses = $175,000 Increase In Your Annual Override Income

If You Do That Every Month For 12 Months, You Can Generally Expect To Be Earning $2,100,000 Per Year Overriding Your Base Shop

Net Licensing

100% Net Licensing Ratio

If you are going to spend time, energy, and money to help someone get licensed, wouldn't it make sense for that license to stay? OF COURSE! On average a Net License will generate activity in your business for a minimum of 18 to 24 months. On average, 1 out of every 4 Net Licenses will usually go on to make a minimum of 6 figures. This is why Net Licensing is so important. There is your gross licenses, which is the amount of licenses you get. Then there is your net licenses, which is the amount of licenses you keep.

1 Build Them An Agency

Build them an agency prior to them getting a license so by the time they get licensed, they have bunch of downline agents. The recommended internal consumption from their downlines will roll up to them as the next available payable license.

2 Make Sure They Understand Why It's Important

If an agent knows why it's important, and also that we track it because it's important, then a higher level of value gets placed on the milestone itself.

3 Make Sure They Are Clear On What's Needed

If an agent doesn't know what's required to become a Net License, then they can't take intentional actions in order to accomplish it. This means the chances of it getting done becomes slim.

Associate = $300 in personal premium

Field Associate = $200 in personal premium

4 Strong Onboarding 3

In the Onboarding 3, we profile a top 25 field training list, role play the Field Training Script and common questions until they can't get it wrong. Then we set up 10 Field Trainings immediately right there on the spot. If we make sure that we do not end Onboarding 3 until at least 5 Field Training appointments are on the calendar, then helping the new agent become a Net License should become simple.

5 Control The List & Market

When profiling the Field Training list, it's important to control the quality of people that go on the list. We have all heard the term MACHO (Married, Age 28+, Children, Home owner, Occupation) and it is important that we book appointments in a MACHO market. When doing the field training appointments, make sure at least 5 of them are above the age of 50 so you are tapping into a rollover market.

6 Recognize It

Always recognize what you want more of. When someone becomes a Net License, make sure to have a flyer made and posted in your group chat, and also make sure they get recognized on your weekly Base Shop call.

7 Quality Certified Field Trainers

The better the trainers, the easier it becomes for them to control the field training list, and the easier it becomes for them to get a result in the new agent's market. If a Certified Field Trainer can't close, then they won't help any clients, which is needed for the new agent to become a Net License.

8 Incentivize It

For anyone that becomes a Net License, add some sort of incentive. The company recognition system recommends buying them a GFI polo and hat, similar to what a professional athlete gets when they make the team. It is a way to make them feel special, but also a way to inspire others to want to do the same.

Recruit To Net Point Ratio

5,000 Points Per Recruit Is The Standard

For every 1 person that you recruit into your agency you should generate a minimum of 5,000 points.

This is one of the fastest ways to double or triple your production and income over night. If your Recruit to Net Point Ratio is 2,500 points per recruit and you get it to 5,000, then not only does your production double but so does your income.

1 Recruit & Field Train In The Right Market

If you recruit people in the right market, when they complete their internal consumption, the premiums are higher because they actually need and can afford our services. If you Field Train agents in the right market, then the premiums are higher for the same reason. So the better the markets, the higher quality clientele you are going to have. This leads to higher premiums, higher insurable needs, and higher rollover dollar amounts.

2 Multiple Policies Per Household

As an EMD, we need to train our agents to make sure that each client has the 5 Finger Solution. By adding a Term LB to every IUL, or adding a Final Expense policy to every rollover client, or making sure each client has the best of all worlds with all the products, you can add an extra couple thousand points per family helped and easily cross 5,000 points per recruit.

3 GFI Rocket

After using GFI Rocket and a client clearly seeing the power of our products, you will no longer get the question "what's the least I can put into this account". You will instead get the question, "what's the most I can fund and dump into this account". GFI Rocket will usually double your average premium, so make sure that you and your agents are fully equipped on how to use it.

4 Competent Certified Field Trainers

Most agents rent information rather than owning information, meaning that they repeat words they hear others say without doing the due diligence on their own to truly be knowledgeable. The more your trainers understand how the products work, the more confident and convicted they become. This leads to people taking action and getting results.

5 Passionate Certified Field Trainers

Those who believe will be believed and those who are convinced will be convincing. So if we can help our agents become crusaders, then their conviction goes up and a big part of CloZing is determined by the conviction of an agent and how much they truly believe that what they are doing for a client is the best thing for them.

6 Internal Consumption

Regardless of whether or not a new recruit stays an agent of the firm, we need to have the goal that every recruit becomes a client. (if suitable) So no matter what, within 72 hours of someone getting coded with GFI, we need to make sure that we do a full financial review with them and their spouse. If for some reason they quit, still call them and set it up. There should be no such thing as a "recruit", only "recruit clients", because every recruit should strongly consider being a client.

7 Weekly Base Shop Product Call

Every week you should do a product and crusade oriented Base Shop call. Not only will this instill the crusade and competence into your agents, but it will also indirectly sell each agent on possibly becoming a client if they haven't.

New Agent System Flow

As an EMD it's important to always know exactly where your people are at and what their next step in the system is. What is equally as important is the new agent knowing exactly where they are at, what their next step is, and how to complete it. Your ability to drive and mobilize your agent's through each step of the system will determine your effectiveness as an EMD.

Onboarding Recognition

As a company we want to make sure that we always recognize people for their hard-work. The more wins we can get someone especially in the beginning stages of their career, the better. People will do more for recognition than anything else. So if we can create a "Hero Making" environment. Not only will the environment be better, but it will lead to people staying in business longer. Remember, every person has an invisible sign on their forehead that says "Make Me Feel Special", So let's become the best at this as a company.

NOTE:

It's important to know that it's what you learn after becoming a Certified Field Trainer that matters. It is one thing to be able to master and repeat the words of a presentation, it's another thing to truly understand how the products work, how to set up and structure a client account, and how to close and persuade a client to do what's in their best interest.

Script 1: 3 Good Qualities Script

This script is used by the trainer to set up recruiting interviews with potential business partners for the new agent. You will need this script during the Onboarding 2 because that is when we start building the new agent an agency. It is also typically used to call any person that has been prospected and or referred over to the firm to work with us.

TRAINER

"Hello, may I speak to (NAME)? How is it going (NAME) my name is (TRAINER) and your good friend _____ referred you to us, do you know _____? Awesome. Well I'm not sure if he told you or not but he recently took a position with our firm and we have been super impressed, so we asked him if he knew anyone that he thought could be a great fit and he thought of you. (TRAINEE) said that you were _____, _____, and _____, are these great things true about you? Well that's good to hear. I really like (TRAINEE) and know he's not the type of person that would just refer anyone over to us. So based off his recommendation we wanted to set up an interview with you in the next day or so to get to know you more and give more clarity on the positions to see if it's a good fit. What does your schedule look like tomorrow?"

Schedule Appointment

Script 2: Field Training Script

This script is used by the new agent to set up Field Training Appointments with potential clients. You will need this script during the Onboarding 3 because that is when we set 10 Qualified Field Training Appointments and begin the new agents Field Training Process

YOU:

"Hey how are you? (Small Talk). Well the reason I am calling is because I just took a position with Global Financial Impact, and I'm super excited about it. I'm actually going through training right now and your support would mean the world to me, So I was wondering if you and (SPOUSE) would help me out?"

THEM:

"Of course, what would you need from us?"

YOU:

"All we would do is hop on a quick zoom in the next day or so where my trainer will share with you who we are and what I'll be doing in my new career path so I can learn, but also, that way if you ever come across anyone who would benefit from what we do, you can have confidence referring them to me.

So what day works better for you both, Tomorrow or the next day?

Common Questions Field Training Script

What Is The Company Name?

The company is Global Financial Impact, and we work with 20+ multi-billion dollar financial institutions. We do business not only here in the United States but also in 33 other countries!

Does my spouse need to be there?

"In order for me to get full credit, both of you are requested to be there."

Do I need to buy anything?

"No, it's just for my training and to gain support."

Is this an MLM?

"No, we are a financial firm and regulated a lot like a bank."

What will I be doing?

"My trainer is just going to share with you what I'll be doing so I can learn, and also so I can gain support."

Building a 1 Million Point Base Shop

As an EMD, a 1,000,000 Net Point Base Shop should be the minimum standard of excellence and below you will find tips and strategies in order to do so!

Recruiting Volume

Recruiting leads to licensing, licensing leads to field training, and field training + internal consumption = production. So the higher the recruiting volume the higher your production should be. The goal should be to do over 25 recruits per month in your base shop.

It is easier to find leaders than it is to develop them, since developing leaders takes time.

50 Licensed Agents

50,000 points per license per year should be the minimum standard in GFI. But based off the industry average, the average licensed agent will do 20,000 points per year. So if you get your base shop to 50 licensed agents you should do 1,000,000 points per year minimum.

Example:

50 Licenses x 20,000 Points = 1,000,000 Points Per Year

Strong Staff (The Dream team)

Every successful Base Shop looks at their Base Shop like a business, and every successful business has different departments that with different areas of focus. In order to run your Base Shop like a factory, the worst thing you can do is take your sales people out of the field and have them working on minimum wage back office tasks. 10 Agents doing 10 hours per week of operations work is 100 hours per week that they aren't focused on recruiting and selling which is where your profits and overrides come from.

Strong Personal Production Through Field Training

As an EMD, you should be the number one and best cloZer in your team. So, if you are not Field Training your agents and teaching them how to help a client and sell (which is where all your profits and overrides come from) then who is? The best way to develop a leader in your Base Shop is to Field Train them in their market, show them how to help clients, and teach them how to earn income. Only those who see money being made will know how to make money on their own.

As an EMD, your personal production should never fall below 300,000 Personal points a year, and if it does, that's a clear sign that you are no longer Field Training your agents.

Building a 1 Million Point Base Shop

Transfer Skill & Knowledge

People who know what to do and how to do it take action, and those who lack clarity and confidence in their skillset don't. So when holding your Base Shop trainings, do not just motivate people, teach them what to do, how to do it, and then give them a chance to do it all on their own through role play. A highly skillful and knowledgeable Base Shop will always do more and accomplish more than just a motivated one.

Skills:

1. Prospecting & Calls (Approach & Contact)
2. The Recruiting Interview
3. The System
4. Field Training & CloZing
5. Human Nature & People Skills

Base Shop Retreats

In GFI we train online, but we build and develop people in person. As an EMD you should be holding an in person retreat once a quarter for your Base Shop. These retreats are usually 2 to 3 days and is an opportunity to not only mastermind, stretch their thinking, and teach them how to win, but build close bonds, brotherhoods, and sisterhoods which is the glue to our business.

Who should go on the retreats? There are different ways to run them, but most leaders will do one of the following:

1. Licensed Agents
2. Net Licenses
3. Contest Qualifiers
4. Certified Field Trainers
5. Top Performers & Leaders

Obsess About The Ratios

Those that run 1 Million point base shops are always paying attention to and obsessing over their business ratios and metrics. Knowing your numbers allows you to course correct, make better, and improve your Base Shops area of improvement at all times. By not knowing your numbers, you could be driving the wrong thing at the wrong time and not actually moving the needle.

Please refer to the Business Ratio page in this booklet, run all of your ratios, do a full audit of your Base Shop and then go aggressively attack your Base Shop deficiencies.

Building a 1 Million Point Base Shop

Keep It Simple & Repetitive

Most leaders are SO GOOD they are NO GOOD, because nobody can do what they do. Those that duplicate themselves quickly are effective, simple, and duplicatable in all they do because they understand that every situation is an opportunity for duplication.

1. Systemize your word tracks
2. Keep your Base Shop product selection simple
3. Complexity is the enemy of simplicity
4. Be willing to say the same thing over and over again: This business is not about saying new things to old people, it's about saying the same old things to new people. The person that can do the boring, repetitive work the longest, wins.

Keep a Hot Environment

Big Base Shops keep and make things fun by keeping the fun in fundamentals. Yes, we are financial professionals, but having a hot environment is the key to retention, momentum, and growth.

3 Hot Environments That a 1 Million Point Base Shop Has:

1. Hot Zoom Environment (Cameras on, Engaging, Energetic, Competitive, & Valuable)
2. Hot Group Chat Environment (Non stop recognition, celebration of one another, Results, good news, and encouragement)
3. Hot In Person Environment (Office, Retreats, Or Both)

Frontline Leaders

Big Base Shops create leadership groups that are performance based not title driven. Every Base Shop should have "Frontline Leaders" which are agents that do 15,000 personal points & 2 directs, or 20,000 personal points in a calendar quarter. Your Frontline are the go to people in your Base Shop and are the ones you are mentoring to be your next EMDs.

MD Factory

Your goal should be to create an MD factory because all an EMD is, is an MD with an MD. So by creating an MD factory, by default, you will start to promote and develop EMD leaders which is the key to a successful business. In order to create an MD factory, your time and energy should be spent with your Field Associates, NOT your MDs. Your MDs are already MDs. At the MD level, they should know how to do almost everything, which means the majority of your energy should be going towards your next wave of leaders, not the ones that already know what to do.

Building a 1 Million Point Base Shop

Strong Executive Exchange Legs

The most powerful and genius part of our business is the Executive Exchange principal. When a Marketing Director is going to take their Executive Marketing Director promotion, in order to do so, they must Exchange and leave behind in your Base Shop their best MD leg. This not only allows them to be promoted to EMD, but now for the rest of their entire career they have the opportunity to receive Exchange legs as their Base Shop MDs get promoted. So they exchange one leg upon promotion to EMD, then for the rest of their entire career, they get to receive them.

This not only gives the EMD an incentive to work with and train everyone in their Base Shop, but it also means that the EMD will not have to constantly rebuild their Base Shop over and over again after the promoting of every EMD.

Recommendation For Choosing An Executive Exchange:

1. They are a Marketing Director and completely independent of their up-line MD
2. They are in alignment and you have a great relationship with them & their spouse
3. They know how to CloZe
4. They have 10 to 15 people showing up to meetings
5. They are doing Double Digit Recruiting and a minimum of 15,000 personal points per month

Everyone Is Direct To You

It is important to know that everyone in your Base Shop will become direct to you if you want them to be because of the Executive Exchange Principle. So always work with the best regardless of how deep they are in your Base Shop, then match up the rest.

Find A New Rabbit Every Month

Every month you want to find someone who is credible and turn them into a Rabbit by intentionally getting them big results quickly and then highlighting them and recognizing them in front of everyone. This will make the existing people in your Base Shop uncomfortable and afraid that a newbie will pass them up. This is a great way to stir the pot, drive competition, and get everyone moving.

Meeting Attendance

Every EMD should be tracking and obsessing over their zoom or in person meeting attendance every week. The true success of a meeting is not determined by the quality of the message but by the amount of people that heard the message. In our business, agent count = app count. So if you have 25 people showing up to meetings, then on average your Base Shop will help 25 families that month.

Building a 1 Million Point Base Shop

EPR: Encourage, Praise, Recognize

Encourage people when they are down

Praise people when they do something right

Recognize them when they hit the milestone or get the result

Then challenge them when they are up and winning to go win even bigger and to keep them from getting comfortable.

Bootcamps

One of the best things you can do to intentionally duplicate, improve skillset, and build infrastructure quickly is to hold bootcamps often where you get everyone in your Base Shop together (on zoom or in person) where everyone Role Plays for hours until they master a skillset.

Field Train Don't Field Sell

Make sure that you and all of your Certified Field Trainers are spending 20 minutes before or after each appointment to intentionally transfer skill into the new agent, teach them, and role play with them. By the time they complete all 10 Training Appointments, they can give the presentation themselves, they understand how to run and do illustrations and they know how you actually came up with the financial strategy you implemented for the client.

Build In 3's (Field Associate Promotions)

Never underestimate the power of the Field Associate promotion. If 10 new agents hit their 3 and 3 this month and earn their Field Associate promotion, that is 30 new business partners and 30 new sales. Not everyone believes they can do 10, but everyone believes they can do at least 3. So make sure you are always driving this and recognizing this in your Base Shop

Get People Paid & Quickly

People who make money believe this works. Those that don't make money, doubt that it works. So be intentional about making sure your new agents get licensed and paid quickly. When an agent makes over $1,000, statistically they will generate activity in your base shop for 18 to 24 months.

GFI Recognition System

Recognition and hero making is the lifeline of our business. People want to be seen and everyone has an invisible sign on their forehead that says "make me feel special". Please take a look at our GFI recognition system found in this booklet.

The 4 R's To Retention

It's not about how many you recruit but how many you actually retain. In GFI we don't recruit to replace, we recruit to find, keep and develop leaders. Below you will find actions that you can intentionally take to ensure that it happens.

R

Recruit

Every Base Shop should strive to do a minimum of 25 recruits per month. If you are properly running the system, that should become easy. Our minimum standard of excellence should be 10 recruits per month.

R

Result

The moment you recruit someone, it is imperative that we get them a RESULT right away so that way they see that this works. Building a relationship isn't enough. If they do not feel like they can win, then they won't try at all. Get them Licensed, Promoted, Spousal Support, a direct, etc. Strive to do this Immediately.

R

Relationship

People quit on strangers and people quit on acquaintances. It becomes a lot harder to quit on a friend, those that become family and someone that has done a lot for you. This is why we want to build a strong connection with our agent immediately. Genuinely get to know them, their family, what they love to do, what drives them, their why and if you live close by, try to do something in person or outside of the office together. Relationships are not built on zoom or in the office, but at game night, on hikes, having dinner in your home, going to the gym or doing something together that you have in common.

Retain

If you follow the steps above, it becomes easier to retain and keep your agents but just remember...Your ambition might get people through the door, but your character and integrity is what will keep people here. Always do the right thing, treat people with respect, don't talk down on others and never do anything that will affect someone's income and or family in a negative way. This doesn't mean you will always agree with everyone, but there is always a solution to all people problems...You just have to find it.

Understanding Why People Quit

If we can understand what causes people to quit then we can proactively take the steps necessary in order to keep them.

1

They Don't Feel Like They Can Do It

People will quit when they no longer feel like they can succeed or when their dream no longer feels attainable. This is why it's so important to not only get every agent a result quickly, but also help them become extremely skillful fast where they begin to have the confidence that they can get a result. This is why role playing is so important because it's a fast way to transfer skill. We recommend to practice until you can't get something wrong, rather than practicing until you get it right.

2

They Don't Feel Like They Belong

It's important to help get every agent emerged into the environment and the team because if they feel like they are on the outside they will quit the same way you would leave a party where you didn't know anyone or feel welcomed at.

Make Sure To:

1. Get them introduced to others in the team, preferably people that come from a similar background
2. Get them results quickly so you can recognize them publicly where they can start to feel seen
3. Create graduating classes of people that are going through the same stages of the system / licensing together, so that way they don't feel alone
4. Build a strong personal connection
5. Allow them to introduce themselves on maybe a smaller call, so they feel welcomed

An Unskilled Or Bad Trainer

Often times people want to blame the new agent as not being "ambitious" or "uncoachable" when in reality, the trainer is just not good enough to inspire them to take action or move forward. We need to make sure we sign off strong trainers or make sure that we are heavily involved, until we can truly trust their ability to do things on their own. There is no such thing as perfect, but we must strive for excellence.

How To Build & Develop Leaders

1. Identify who you are going to build
2. Separate them from the pack
3. Let them know early and often how much you believe in them
4. Let them know that you really believe that they have what it takes to build this thing big
5. Build immediate support for them from their friends and family
6. Do 3 Field Training appointments with them in one day (Intentional Duplication)
7. Help them get results, help them get promoted and help them go full time fast
8. Invite them to a bunch of fun events (Sporting events, spa days, etc)
9. EPR them and pour belief into them always (encourage, praise, recognize)
10. Build a strong bond with them
11. Do nice things for them to make them feel special (edible arrangements, pad folios, dinner, etc)
12. Find common interests with them to connect
13. You and your spouses spend time together (Double Dates)
14. Make them apart of your world early and often (Let them taste the good life)
15. When you travel or go to events bring them with you (If event permits)
16. Take them to a leadership retreat (Sometimes before they earned it)
17. Take them on an incentive trip
18. Do special or private mentoring with them
19. Praise them publicly in front of everyone
20. Introduce them to big players and your up-line
21. Meet their entire family upfront and build support
22. Constant communication with them and their spouse on a group text
23. Get them speaking in front of a crowd early and often
24. Get them in the cloZers mentality (recommend movies, books, etc)
25. Invite them to a mens, ladies, couples retreat
26. Build their identity by pouring belief into them and constantly reminding them of their strengths
27. Sell them the dream and stretch their vision (Exotic cars, nice restaurants, first class, nice houses, a taste of the good life)

How To Build & Develop Leaders

28. Get to know them on a personal level (Past and present)
29. Expect them to be accountable to you daily
30. Help them get the crusade in their heart
31. Help them turn their haters into motivators
32. Get their spouse sold out. Help them become a generator or operations manager. Make sure their spouse feels wanted and needed in the business
33. Invite their spouse to events and retreats
34. Leverage your sidelines and up-lines for overlapping leadership
35. Let them know that they are going to be the first _____ (Chinese leader, millionaire in their family, etc)
36. Now that you have a relationship with them, you can challenge them
37. Lock and go with them all the way up to EMD and make sure they want to go out strong
38. Get them to want to do personal development every day through your example
39. Help them make a name for themselves in your base shop, hierarchy, and company
40. Encourage them to look the part, talk big, act the part, and act as if
41. Invest your time energy and money into them
42. Because you're investing in them, expect a return and let them know that (Tactfully)
42. Have Greg Kapp talk to them to help increase their faith and decrease their fears
43. Connect what they have done in the past to why that has set them up for success here
44. Give them possibilities, projections, "imagine when" and talk about their future and how great it's going to be
45. Always talk about what's next for them (Next cash flow or promotion milestone)
46. Always be thinking about locking them in and how to get them ALL IN, sooner
47. Make sure they feel indebted to you because all that you did for them so they don't quit on you
48. Be there for them when they are up and especially, when they are down
49. Let their spouse know how much you believe in their Husband/Wife when they are not around
50. Help them think and operate like an entrepreneur business owner and get them out of the employee mindset
